Parents and Guardians:

Monday, February 10, 2014, a previously scheduled Professional Development Day for teachers, will be used as an Instructional Day for students. This would cover the calamity day (January 28, 2014) we were required to take because of inclement weather.

Current state law only provides for five calamity days per school year that do not need to be made up.

To be clear, February 10th is a normal school day.
